Because I think that Mr. Dawes had earned the honor, and was in every way fitted to fill the Speaker's chair, let nobody suppose that I bear any ill will toward the gentleman who has won it. Mr. Blaine fills it well—better than I though he would. For he seems to have left his nervous jumping up and to bring an unwonted serenity to grace the new occasion. Earnestness, enthury siasm and impetuosity characterized him on the floor; high qualities all—but, in an exaggerated degree, not just the ones for an impartial Speaker, presiding over one of the most turbulent and unmanageable legislative bodies in the world. Mr. Blaine has always seemed to me the Camille Desmoulins of the House. In spite of Scotch-Irish blood, he has just the temperament of that most unfortunate of all the journalists of the Jacobins. Adjournment of Congress.

The question of the adjournment of the present session of Congress is again being considered, and there now appears to be little doubt among the Representatives that adjournment will take place within eight days. The subject was discussed Monday by the House Appropriation Committee, and they instructed their chairman [Mr. Dawes] to report a resolution providing for adjournment on Tuesday, April 6th. We would further remark that in increasing our production we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pi-ces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country. In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made: most reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.
